Introduction

Before the children are involved in the following activities they could take part in a discussion about the poppy and what it signifies using prior knowledge and experiences where children may have seen people wearing poppies around the time of Remembrance Day.

This will obviously be a general discussion driven by the children but could include:

- It is a flower which grows wild outside.
- It is used to remember people who have died.
- It grows from a seed and produces a red flower.

Poppy Collage

The children could look at pictures of poppies or actual poppies in order to explore the appearance of the poppy and the shape of its petals. The children will then be tasked with creating their own poppies. They should be able to make choices from a range of materials and tools and be encouraged to explain their choices.

These poppies can then be cut out and arranged as a display in the class. The children could be involved in discussion about where they would like the collage to be displayed and then be actively involved in arranging their poppies to build the collage.

Learning Intention

I am learning about what a poppy looks like.

Success Criteria

I can create my own poppy using different materials and display it as a class collage.
